2012 CHRISTCHURCH CASINO NZ TROTTING CUP FIELD

- Zenola Seelster (E3) Driver: Philip Butcher Trainer: Geoff Small
Up tested against this type of opposition & unlikely to make the field.
- Caribbean Blaster Driver: Kate Gath Trainer: Andy Gath
Australian visitor who is in grand form. Good beginner who adds interest.
- Terror To Love Driver: Ricky May Trainers: Graham & Paul Court
Brings an impeccable build up into this. Looks the one they have to beat.
- Major Mark Driver: Colin DeFilippi Trainer: Mark Purdon
Improved showing in the Kaikoura Cup but the extreme distance is a concern.
- Sushi Sushi Driver: Natalie Rasmussen Trainer: Mark Purdon
His form has been building well towards this run. Eachway claims.
- Mah Sish Driver: Anthony Butt Trainer: Tim Butt
Recovered well from a recent setback to win last week & longer trip no worry.
- Franco Ledger Driver: Hamish Hunter Trainer: Hamish Hunter
Southerner who is absolutely flying at the moment. Primed for this.
- Fly Like An Eagle Driver: Mark Purdon Trainer: Mark Purdon
Produced a devastating late finish at Kaikoura. Big threat if he steps.
- Stunin Cullen Driver: Dexter Dunn Trainer: Tim Butt
Has yet to recapture his best form this campaign. Look to others.
- Mach Banner (E1) Driver: John Dunn Trainer: Robert Dunn
Has struggled against the very best company. Should be safely held.
- Pure Power Driver: Todd Macfarlane Trainers: Dave & Claire McGowan
Improving type but he might find some here a bit smarter. Risking.
- Ohoka Texas Driver: Mark Jones Trainer: Mark Jones
Not racing well enough to suggest he can trouble this field. Not liked.
- Donegal Delight (E2) Driver: TBA Trainer: Cran Dalgety
Competitive against her fellow mares but she is up against it here.
- Highview Tommy Driver: Blair Orange Trainer: Mark Purdon
Proven at the distance & usually a good beginner. Must be included.
- Gold Ace Driver: Tony Herlihy Trainer: Steven Reid
Class horse who comes into this with a chequered preparation. Win hope at his peak.
- Jarcullembra Driver: David Butcher Trainer: Geoff Small
Solid without looking like testing lately. Will need all favours to place.
- Pembrook Benny Driver: Zac Butcher(J) Trainer: Barry Purdon
Northerner who was just okay in the Cup trial on Wednesday. Place claims best.
- Auckland Reactor Driver: Maurice McKendry Trainer: Mark Purdon
Has had a frustrating Cup preparation & M Purdon has jumped off. Take on trust.

RACE-BY-RACE PREVIEW

Race 1: Some classy trotters line up here & two of the rising stars could quinnella this. Stent (13) and Murcielargo (16) won't stop until they get to the top & both have been set specifically for this race.

Race 2: Mossdale Conner (7) was dazzling winning his graduation heat, coming from near last. He is a quality horse. His big danger appears to be Three Pints (2). Though beaten last Thursday he's got the ideal draw, whereas others haven't feared so well.

Race 3: Thanesan (6) is a big race specialist and his form is better than it reads on paper right now. With Escapee likely to run in the Group 1 the way is clear for him to thrive. Springbank Sam (3) looked great in his recent trial at Forbury Park, bar an early mistake. He looks to have come back to tip-top order this season.

Race 4: Auckland Cup winner Sir Lincoln (8) has this race by the throat. His fitness is no concern after his setback in October. Easy On The Eye (5) is a great chance to finish right behind Sir Lincoln or test him. He looks back to his best again after a strong trial last week. His gate-speed is a key to the race.

Race 5: All the form points to Jivin Cullen (5). This is an effective drop in class for him after winning the $50k PGG race at Kaikoura. Betting in this could mean looking for value in behind the favourite. That can come in the form of Phantom Grin (9), La Passione (11), Cam Before The Storm (12) and Hairy Maclary (13).

Race 6: Champion trotter I Can Doosit (9) chases win 16 in a row. The punters will plant it on his nose. Others may be tempted at a gettable First4. Escapee (10), Leighton Hest (1), Sovereignty (8) and The Fiery Ginga (6) appear the keys to that puzzle.

Race 7: Slashing Sires Stakes field. Anyone who saw Franco Nelson (3) last time won't want to be on anything else. He's got a great draw to boot. His biggest challenge may come in the form of Arden Rooney (5) who has been tremendous in this first campaign. Those along with Five Card Draw (6) should make up the nucleus of the trifecta and First4.

Race 8: Toughest field of the day. This is a chance to nab a big collect via the exotic bets. The Purdon pair of All Star Man (14) and Highview Teejay (10) may dominate the betting but from their awkward draws they're far from nailed-on winners. The value might lie with Chechnya (7) who is making all the right moves at present and Spectacular (13) who is a great follower of speed up from the deep south.

Race 9: Christen Me (7) appears to be a rising star. He has tremendous stamina and speed to match. Our Boy Sue (1) looks a ready-made quinnella from barrier one. He had no luck last time in very tough race. Don't underestimate.

Race 10: How do they beat Terror To Love (3)? Well, it appears only bad luck can stop him. If that's the case who can take advantage of any bad luck? Gold Ace (15) can – he's always been an arch enemy of Terror To Love. Franco Ledger (7) is the stalker and if he gets the last say he could be deadly. The fact that Mark Purdon has hopped off Auckland Reactor to drive Fly Like An Eagle (8) must be a big tip too.

Race 11: On exposed form and recent trials Master Lavros (12) appears a standout. He's a beautiful big horse who appears to be peaking nicely. Though Lucky Monarch (10) was well beaten at trials last week by Master Lavros it would be no surprise if he placed at nice odds and made the trifecta worthwhile. Jags Invasion (17) has always had a big reputation.

Race 12: Quality field to finish with and there are chances to get out. Jason Rulz (1) looks ideally placed from barrier one. He'll get the soft run while many other are butting heads around him. Smiling Star (5) is a smart, durable horse that impressed first-up after a long layoff and Poacher (4) almost won this day last year and will love a race where the pace is on throughout.

TRIALS TIPS

Escapee (R3/R6) looks back to her best. She did everything right & blitzed her rivals at the Cup Trials. She looked fantastic.

Phantom Grin (R5) sat parked outside Smolda for the last mile at the Cup Trials & never went away. Based at Tim Butt's for the week he looks a nice bet at odds.

Five Card Draw (R7) turned in arguably the best trial at Wednesday's Cup Trials. Big final sections to make ground from the rear against quality opposition.

Pemberton Shard (R8) wasn't pushed at trials last week but finished right up behind Elusive Chick & other nice horses. She drops back into this race from a very strong mare's race at Ashburton.

Statesman (R9) was another to catch the eye at Cup Trials. He stormed home wide out. Worth remembering too he was nominated for the NZ Cup. No luck in last three starts.

DRIVER TO FOLLOW - RICKY MAY

Race 1: Top Notch Lavros – he's gotta trot! He'd be some chance if he does, he's got ability but he's a bit risky at the moment.

Race 2: Mossdale Conner – he's a really nice horse. Has great speed. Draw a wee worry but a winning chance.

Race 4: Sleepy Tripp – he's a good drive to pick up. He'll need some luck from the draw though.

Race 5: Ellmer Hanover – he's going super right now. He's a good place, provided he doesn't things right.

Race 7: Bettor Rock On – on the ballot & he's had no luck of late. He did well for 4th. He's a runner's chance.

Race 8: Pemberton Shard – nice mare & if she gets the right run she can place, at least.

Race 9: Ten Diamonds – it will be tough from this draw & I'd prefer her over more distance but she trialed well the other day.

Race 10: Terror To Love – it won't be as easy as people think. It is still a NZ Cup but I'm as confident going in with him as I was with the likes of Iraklis and Monkey King when they won.

Race 11: Sol Invictus – this draw won't help. He's going nice races & he's a place chance with the right run.

Race 12: Jason Rulz – he's going super. Felt good at trials the other night. He's a winning chance but this is a tricky draw.
